

PURCHASING YOUR FIRST UKULELE

There is no right or wrong place to purchase your ukulele and individual preferences dictate what type of ukulele is best for you.

For your first ukulele you should plan to spend between $50 and $200.

There are several sources to purchase from and the internet is certainly a good one. However, it is probably best to have an idea of what size ukulele you are looking for first, ie a soprano, concert or tenor.

So, talk to other members and ask them what they have and what they recommend. Listen to the different instruments. Some new members have purchased their ukuleles directly from other club members. Ask if any are for sale.
