Key - G

Verse 1

There's a place I long to be, where the rivers still run free
The snowcapped mountains seem to touch the sky
Where those crystal waters flow to green valleys far below
It's a place I'd like to go when it's my time

Verse 2

We used to sit out in the evening and watch a golden eagle fly
As she lands atop a Ponderosa pine
I can feel the summer breeze blowing through the Aspen trees
This place could always ease my troubled mind

Chorus

So if I'm gonna die, won't you take me to Montana
They say it's right next door to Heaven
I won't have far to fly to meet my maker in the sky
So when I die, please take me to Montana

Verse 3

I would saddle my old Buckskin and ride off down the trail
To catch a rainbow in a cool mountain stream
And listen to the water fall, down along the canyon wall
It's a place I still recall in my dreams

Repeat chorus.Tag: When I die won't you take me to Montana
